

HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN IN WASHINGTON

LONG AND TEDIOUS JOURNEY FROM THE WEST IS FINISHED

Thousands Present to Pay Silent Tribute to Dead Chieftain—Casket Borne on Caisson Under Guard to the East Room in the White House to Lie in State for One Night

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The White House tonight received its dead.
The flag draped casket of Warren Gamaliel Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States, stricken while leading his country back from shell-torn fields to paths of peace, was drawn gently tonight into the capital by a funeral train that had crossed the continent.
Nine hours late was the train, which east of Chicago crawled thru great crowds reluctant to end their tribute. It was after 10 o'clock when it arrived, but tens of thousands who stood for hours beneath a blazing sun and thru a humid evening still stood sorrowfully from railroad plaza to white house.
Tenderly the casket was carried from the train thru the terminal, past the new president and his cabinet, standing in silent salute.
Tenderly it was placed on an artillery caisson.
Tenderly it was drawn thru the line of silent thousands to the great mansion that had been Mr. Harding's home.
The guard of honor—marines, seamen and soldiers—lifted it from the caisson under the portico of the white house and carried it for a night of rest into the East Room in which had lain Lincoln and McKinley.

SCHOOL AND CHURCHES TO GET BIG SUM
Widow of Cyrus McCormick Leaves Them Million

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Schools and churches received more than $1,000,000 of the $8,696,000 estate of Mrs. Nettie Fowler McCormick, widow of Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the reaper, the executors announced today in making public a synopsis of Mrs. McCormick's will.
The three children Cyrus Hall McCormick, Anita McCormick Blaine and Harold Fowler McCormick, each will receive $2,579,360, sharing equally in the money not given to charity.
Among the larger bequests of the will the Washington and Tusculum College, Tusculum, Tenn., Y. M. C. A. of Chicago (home for incurables) each will receive $100,000 and the Thornehill Orphanage of Clinton, S. C., Children's Memorial hospital at Chicago, Huron College of Huron, S. D., and the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago each will receive $50,000.
In accordance with the expressed wishes of Mrs. McCormick the executors will make bequests of $100,000 to Olivet Institute Building Fund, the International Y. M. C. A. for pension purposes another $100,000 to the International Y. M. C. A. for Foreign work, and $50,000 to McCormick Theological Seminary for a gymnasium.
The balance of a $100,000 fund to Princeton University, $20,000 will be made.

Then the new president, his cabinet, high officials of the government, military escort withdrew leaving to Mrs. Harding her dead.
For only one night will it be hers. Tomorrow the nation makes its claim, the honored coffin will be taken to the rotunda of the capitol for the funeral service in which millions from Atlantic to Pacific will join.
Train Nine Hours Late
Although the train was nine hours late, thousands jammed the station concourse waiting for hours packed against the iron fence that shuts off the train platform, to be first to give their silent tribute to the dead chieftain.
The train backed into the station, so that the funeral car with its flag draped casket rolled in first to stop where the little group headed by President Coolidge waited.
The lights in the funeral car cast a brilliant glow in the big train shed. Secretary Christian and Dr. Sawyer were on the back platform. There was no noise in the station but the throbbing of the air pump on a distant engine.
Mrs. Harding stepped off the car leaning on Secretary Christian's arm and with Dr. Sawyer on her other side. The band in the concourse began playing "Nearer My God to Thee."
Mrs. Harding walked erect but slowly along the station platform. While her hand was on Secretary Christian's arm she apparently needed no support, the military guard of honor that stood about the casket all the way from San Francisco also alighted.
Stands Trip Well
Members of the party who came all the way said Mrs. Harding stood the trip well.
As the solemn strains of the comforting old hymn filled the station, the casket was tenderly lifted down thru the special door cut in the side of the car. It was placed on a rolling platform. A single wreath that had been waiting at the station was laid on the great flag spread over the casket.
The military guard resumed its place about the casket. The uniformed men raised their hands and began moving slowly toward the double rank of non-commissioned officers who formed a corridor to the president's room.
Meantime Mrs. Harding had entered an automobile and had been whisked away thru a side street to the white house. Her appearance and the reports of those who had made the trip with her from San Francisco set at rest widespread rumors that she had suffered a physical collapse.
It was said she had borne up bravely from the first and had shown no sign of breaking under the strain. Secretaries Hoover, Wallace and Work, Attorney General Daugherty and General

CARNEGIE CO'S WORKING HOURS CHANGE AUG. 16

Other Steel Companies to Make Change Next Week
(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—The 12-hour day in the plants of the Carnegie Steel Company, the largest subsidiary of the United States of Steel, will be eliminated on August 16, Elbert H. Gary chairman of the latter's board of directors said today.
Workers shifted from a 12-hour to an 8-hour day will receive a flat increase of 25 per cent in their hourly pay it was said at the local offices of the steel corporation.
This means that their hourly pay will be changed from 40 to 50 cents, and their daily pay from $4.80 to $4. Laboring men in their rolling departments will work on ten hour day shifts instead of the present 12-hour basis and will receive no change in their present 40 cents an hour rate.
Advices from Youngstown, O., indicate that the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, one of the largest independent steel manufacturing concerns planned to begin elimination of the 12-hour day next week. The company's 12-hour men will be put on eight hour shifts. Those working 11 hours will have their period of employment reduced to ten hours without an increase in their hourly rate of pay. The 12-hour men will get ten hours pay when changed to a three shift day.

MORE INDICTMENTS ARE EXPECTED OF BUCKETSHOP MEN
Special Grand Jury to Follow on Confessions Obtained

(By the Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Additional indictments of bucketshop operators and backers and "other prominent persons" will be sought for a federal grand jury sworn in today as a result of the confessions last night of Edward M. Fuller and W. F. McGee partner in the bankrupt firm of E. M. Fuller and Co., United States Attorney Hayward announced today.
It was indicated that an attempt would be made to show that the Fuller concern was a sub-division of a loosely organized system, one of several directed by a council and was in turn the center for a number of bucketshops operated under different names in this and other cities, also that many of the outmost branches are still in lively operation in an unsuccessful effort to "shear" enough from the credulous to pay the legal expenses of those "higher up."
Another result of the confessions was expected to be a move on the part of the receiver in bankruptcy for E. M. Fuller and Co., to regain some of the $6,000,000 in assets which disappeared shortly before the failure. The brokers were said to have given the names of several persons whom large checks were given and it was indicated court action would be taken to recover those funds.
Mr. Hayward again refused to make public the confession which he announced last night he had obtained.

Governor Proclaims Friday a Fast Day

(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—In reply to questions raised by Illinois Bankers concerning notes and other paper coming due Friday, the day of President Harding's funeral, Governor Len Small issued a proclamation today declaring August 10 a legal fast day.
This means that instruments due on that date will become due on the day following.
The governor's action was taken under the negotiable instruments act of 1874. The proclamation follows:
"Whereas, On next Friday, August 10, the final obsequies of the late president of the United States will be held at Marion, Ohio; and
"Whereas, In accordance with custom and in deference to the wishes of our people the governor has appointed that day to be observed as a day of mourning and prayer in order that honor and respect may be paid to the memory of the late president;
"Whereas, To carry out the intent of the governor's proclamation and the wishes of the people it is essential that public and private business be generally set aside and commercial and financial obligations be postponed and held in abeyance for one day.
"Now, Therefore, I, Len Small, governor of Illinois by virtue of the authority in me vested by an act, approved March 18, 1874, as amended do hereby appoint Friday, the 10th day of August A. D. 1923, as a day of fast and mourning in the State of Illinois.
"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed.
Signed
Len Small, Governor of Illinois."

DANVILLE TRACTION MEN PLANNING STRIKE

(By the Associated Press)
DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 7.—Local street car employees have voted to strike next Saturday unless the company recedes from its announced plan of cutting their wages two cents an hour.
An increase of two cents an hour was granted by the company last spring when it began introducing one man cars. The contract between employees and company expired August 1, and the new contract is held in abeyance pending action by the company on its threat to make the decrease.

GERMAN MARK PLUNGING TO AWKWARD END

Many Retailers Are Forced to Close Their Stores
(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Aug. 7.—Utter confusion prevailed in the retail situation in all lines in Greater Berlin today due to the continued plunging of the mark and the consequent fantastic rise of the dollar.
While the food situation continues to show a chronic shortage in ordinary staples, hourly rises of prices caused by the fluctuations of the mark are projecting a new and serious element into the situation as the retailers are withdrawing their wares from sale whenever the customers refuse to pay prices based on the gold mark of the dollar unit.
The retailers assert that they are unable to replenish their stocks under existing conditions and, inasmuch as they are being obliged to pay wholesalers and jobbers on the basis of the so-called "stabilized mark," they are now demanding similar accommodations in their dealings with the public.
Stores Are Closing
Many shops thruout the city already have shutdown, barricading their doors and emptying the shop windows of all display.
In the meanwhile the government is making hectic efforts to prevent the situation from lapsing into a state of unmanageable chaos and is hastening its program of tax and financial measures, the underlying principle of which is the adoption of a national system of financing whereby all federal revenues and expenditures will be computed on a gold basis whereby paper marks will be eliminated. Once the government succeeds in putting its reform measures into practical operation private trade and commerce are expected to adapt themselves to the new order thus completing the job of permanently jettisoning the paper mark. The government virtually has abandoned all further attempts to "peg" the mark, or save it from the abyssal plunge.
The government proposes to make the recently floated internal gold loan the crux of the new national currency. The dollar rate fluctuated between three and four million marks to the dollar, thruout the day. The official figure was 3,300,000 for the dollar and 15,000,000 for the pound sterling.

DANVILLE IS VISITED BY HEAVY RAIN AND ELECTRICAL STORM

(By the Associated Press)
DANVILLE, Ill., Aug. 7.—A heavy rain and electrical storm which began early in the evening and lasted nearly to midnight caused considerable damage in Danville and the surrounding country. Wires were down north and west of here and street car railroad and interurban officials report interrupted communications, while many telephones were out of commission.
Two barns near Georgetown were struck by lightning and burned, and Elmer Crawford, a world war veteran was killed by lightning at his home west of Rossville while attempting to go from the house to his barn.
A local rain gauge recorded 3.92 inches rain fall, the heaviest in many years. But little wind accompanied the storm.

COOLIDGE FOLLOWS HARDING PRECEDENT

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Following a precedent set by President Cleveland and revived by President Harding, President Coolidge tonight left his temporary "white house" to pay a personal call. He rode to the National Soldiers' Home early in the evening and called on Major Parker West, a deputy governor of the home, whom he has known for years, whom usual custom of presidents has been to make no social visits but both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Harding frequently left the white house to spend an evening with close friends elsewhere.

He will address a reunion of soldiers and sailors of Marion county at which 25,000 people are expected. His speech probably will be on his favorite subject of hard roads.

FINAL RITES FOR HARDING WILL BE BRIEF AND PLAIN

Is the Expressed Wish of Mrs. Harding—Body to be Taken to Marion to His Father's Home Thursday—To Lie in State Until the Final Funeral Services are Held Friday

(By the Associated Press)
MARION, O., Aug. 7.—Simplicity almost approaching severity will characterize the last rites for Warren G. Harding when his body is brought here Thursday from Washington.
Carrying out the expressed desire of Mrs. Harding, as communicated by her to those in charge of funeral arrangements here, only services, excepting probably a prayer at the home of his father, George T. Harding, Sr., where the body will repose before being placed in a receiving vault, will be very brief and will be conducted at the vault in Marion cemetery where the president's body will be placed temporarily.
This will be in charge of Rev. George M. Landis, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, of which Mr. Harding was a member, assisted by Rev. Jesse Swank, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Mrs. Harding's pastor.
There will be no imposing funeral cortege to the cemetery, no trooping of horses, no rumble of artillery wheels, no marching organizations. Its grandeur will be its simplicity and its sadness. Not even the "president's own," Troop A, Ohio National Guard Cavalry, Cleveland, which acted as escort of honor when Mr. Harding was inaugurated president, will participate, other than to maintain quietude.
There will be thousands of other soldiers here but they too will be held in capacity of aides to civil authorities to maintain order. Plans which it was explained are only tentative until they are carried thru will bring the body of the late president to his home city about 10 A. M. Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Harding, members of the party who made the sad journey with her from San Francisco to the national capitol and two aides, a representative of the army and a representative of the navy, who will comprise the only military escort to the body. A hearse will be used to convey the body to the father's home in East Center street where it is planned to have it lie in state from 2 P. M., to 10 P. M., Thursday and from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M., Friday. The funeral cortege is scheduled to leave the Harding home soon after 2 o'clock for the cemetery, services there being conducted about 3 o'clock. Mr. Harding's body instead of being buried in the family plot beside his mother and sister, will be placed in the receiving vault until a mausoleum is erected to receive it.
As soon as the detailed funeral plans had been received by Col. F. P. Lahn, personal representative of President Coolidge and Attorney Hoke Donchin, chairman of the Marion Civic Association, scenes about Marion club, headquarters for arrangements, took on aspects of a military camp where the general staff was preparing plans for attack.
Tables were covered with blue print maps of the city and pencils began to trace lines here and there.
Crowds a Problem.
It was in fact a preparation for an attack on the biggest problem that has ever confronted this city—the problem of properly handling the crowds which are expected to come here to attend the funeral of the dead president.
Preparations are being made to handle 100,000 people in a city of about 30,000.
One of the first acts of the military was to make changes at the home of Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., that would better facilitate the handling of the coffin and the passing of crowds past the bier. Steps leading to the front porch from the west side were torn away and rebuilt to make entrance direct from the front and a board walk was laid across the lawn from the street to the front porch in order that entrance might be more direct.

SAVING IN COAL COST FOR STATE IS MADE KNOWN

Amounts to About $60,000 for the Institutions
(By the Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 7.—A savings of more than $60,000 in the cost of coal for state institutions has been made, according to the announcement today of Lawrence H. Becker, superintendent of purchases and supplies, after opening a second consignment of bids. The first were rejected July 23, because they were too high.
A reduction of 30 cents in the average price of screenings was shown in the latest bids. The earlier offers averaged $1.60 and those opened today averaged $1.30 a ton. A saving of at least $60,000 on screenings alone has been effected, Mr. Becker said. The bids today called for 120,000 tons and cover the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1923.
The lowest actual bid for screening was $1.18 a ton. Several were received at this figure. Awards will be made after tabulation of the bids received.

LOSES TWENTY U. S. POUNDS BUT GAINS THOUSAND ENGLISH

Balance Sheet of Third to Swim English Channel

DOVER, England, Aug. 7. (By A. P.)—Genial Henry Sullivan of Lowell, Mass., who yesterday conquered Neptune by swimming across the turbulent English channel from Dover to Calais was still a tired man tonight and sought his bed early in order to gain a much needed rest. While all of Dover was talking of his conquest—an achievement which only two men before him have had the grit and stamina to accomplish Sullivan was sound asleep in his simple home in the outskirts of Dover where he has lived each time he has come across the ocean to seek fame by crossing the channel. In his long fight of 27 hours and 25 minutes with the cold and choppy waters that divide the British Isles from the continent Sullivan lost 20 American pounds but picked up 1,000 English pounds. The latter was given to him as a prize by the Daily Sketch, a London newspaper which offered the purse years ago for the first man who duplicated the feat of Captain Matthew Webb and T. W. Burgess. Was Very Sick Man The American was a sick man during almost every hour of his long and laborious battle with the waters, whose restlessness made millions of travelers in ships ill. Sullivan swallowed much salt water during the first four hours on the way to the French shore and lost his appetite. From this time on he took no nourishment until 24 hours later when he staggered up to a cafe on the sands of Calais and ordered a dish of ice cream and bowl of soup, using the soup as a "night cap" before retiring to start catching up on his lost slumber. For the first few hours of his swim Sullivan was swept toward his goal by the flood tide. Then he was carried off a little bit ebb when soon after dawn he was within three miles of Calais but had to swim many times three miles to get there. An offset tide carried him down the coast and away from the shore farther and farther

CAMOUFLAGE BOAT NABS BOOTLEGGERS

(By the Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 7.—Its paint dulled with mud and canvass over its hatches to disguise it as a bootlegging craft the "Flying Dutchman" speed boat of the prohibition forces on the Detroit river seized a 35 foot launch with 30 cases of liquor aboard today. The prohibition boat had become so well known on the river that bootleggers spotted it in time to get back into Canadian waters according to federal enforcement officers.

The operator of the captured boat sprang into the water when he found federal officers aboard the craft which he had taken for another bootlegging boat. He reached the shore ahead of the federal officers who sprang into the water after him and escaped.

HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN IN WASHINGTON

erbing walked slowly behind the casket as it was carried down the living corridor.

Soldiers "Present Arms"

Speaker Gillett also walked with the party that alighted from the funeral train. The double rank of soldiers forming the aisle came to "present arms" as the casket was carried by their bayonets flashing in the bright light.

The slow, majestic strains of the old hymn filled the big building with soft music. The casket was carried thru to the main room.

Mrs. Harding reached the white house at 10:45 p. m., just as her husband's body was being taken into the president's room at the station. She walked into the house unaided.

Inside the executive mansion which she left six weeks ago was the first lady of the land. The widow was greeted only by old friends and members of the family. A plan to have Mrs. Coolidge and the ladies of the cabinet present to meet her was cancelled at her own request.

Receives Mrs. Harding

The little group that were to console her while her dead lay in the East Room consisted of Mrs. George T. Harding, Jr., wife of the president's brother, Dr. Heber Votaw, the president's brother-in-law and Mrs. Votaw; Clifford Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother, and Mrs. Kling; Governor Crissinger of the Reserve Board and Mrs. Crissinger; and Director Scooby of the mint and Mrs. Scooby.

As Mrs. Harding stepped into the white house a shooting star dropped out of the heavens shedding a brief but mellow light upon the scene. A crowd of a few score who had been admitted to the grounds stood at a considerable distance until Mrs. Harding had disappeared beyond the portals.

President Coolidge gave his formal greetings to his dead chief as the casket reached the head of the aisle of soldiers, before the president's room. He stood hat in hand as it passed then turned to follow slowly with bent head.

The flag draped burden that carried with it the sorrowing heart of a nation, then was borne thru the long room to the plaza beyond and lifted to the black draped gun caisson. It was strapped in place as the troopers of the escort sat with sabres raised high at "present." A moment later at a low command, the troopers turned slowly away to lead the march to the white house. Six bay horses with two khaki clad outriders drew the caisson. The escort moved off across the plaza in platoon front, then halted while the motor cars took their passengers. President Coolidge and Speaker Gillett were in the first car. It was a few minutes before eleven o'clock when the sad procession began moving toward the capitol grounds where it would swing into Pennsylvania avenue. The hidden flood lights that usually bathe the capital with a white glow had been extinguished and the great dome stood against a moonless sky as if in mourning, a thing of mysterious beauty lifting above the great pile of its summits. Behind President Coolidge in the cortege rode Chief Justice Taft and Secretary Hughes in a second car, then Secretaries Weeks and Denby riding together. The newspapermen of President Harding's party walked beside President Coolidge's car and the secret service men flanked it on the other side. A picked guard of honor from the headquarters company of the District of Columbia walked beside the caisson.

Enroute to White House

Down the winding road way under the trees the escort moved, turning into Pennsylvania avenue around the peace monument and swinging up the street at a slow walk. An utter hush filled the broad street lined again despite the late hour with thousands who had waited long to pay their humble meed of acclaim to the dead. The following troop of cavalry swung down, then the rolling rumbling guns that brought up the rear.

Up the Broadway ahead the cortege rolled and no sound except for the clatter of the horses' hoofs and the rumble of the gun wheels marked its passing. Far ahead the utter stillness held among the thousands. The cry of a fretful child, cradled in its mother's arms sounded oddly loud.

The street was dim in the subdued glow of its tall lamps, the buildings dark, almost deserted with few lighted windows.

A black sky studded with a few stars that looked dim and far away spread above. Flashes on the high buildings were invisible in their dejected half-mast drop in the all but windless air. It seemed long after the rattle of hoofs a block or two away became audible, before the escort came abreast.

Procession Noiseless

The troopers were half visible as they passed back in countless variations from the naked steel of their blades. The caisson rolled noiselessly on rubber shod wheels. The single wreath of sombre hues rested over the still heart of him who thus retraced the way he came in triumph to place and power two brief years ago.

The wide straps that bound the casket to its place looked like bands of mourning against the glowing glory of the great flag that covered it.

Behind the casket in long single file came the silent cars bearing the mourners, their dimmed headlights marking an oddly dulled light of sombre night. Behind these and the last horseman came the rolling guns, the guns the dead leader hoped might never again give voice in anger.

As the funeral party wound slowly beneath the high windows of the Willard Hotel, Mrs. Coolidge looked down upon it to ponder who knows what lesson the solemn cortege carried for the husband so ruthlessly forced to high place by the death of his chief.

Thousands Waiting

Swinging wide around the old corner beyond the hotel where the bulk of the gray treasury blocks the road the slow moving troopers turned up the gentle hill of 15th street in a canyon of stone and steel where the steel on their horses' hoofs rang sharper in the heavy close air.

Another wide turn carried them into Pennsylvania avenue again and on the last stage of the journey. Thousands were banded silent and bareheaded along the way and deep into the park over the way from the white house gates. The troopers swung on to turn in line and sat rigid with lifted sabres.

The caisson rolled by them and into the East Gate at 10:40 P. M., and then under the old trees to the great door thru which great men of the century have passed, but never more sadly than this tonight.

Lights from the great chandelier under the porte-cochere cast a soft light down on the casket as it was lifted down and carried tenderly into the East Room with its endless bank of flowers from the kings and great ones of the world.

A soldier and a marine bore the head of the sad burden and before it walked at slow pace the officers of the army and navy who had served close to the dead leader as his aides.

Across the wide entrance way they passed and Warren Harding was back again for a brief moment of rest in the home a proud nation gave him with his office in the fullness of its trust.

Body to East Room

The casket was rested on a wheeled carrier to ease its weight gently over the door sill. It was drawn slowly thru the wide door of the east room and placed with head to the east under the great crystal chandelier with the portrait of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln looking down upon it.

President Coolidge and the other members of the party passed into the white house with bowed heads. So the new chief executive first entered on the scene of the great duties that await him in sorrow for the friend and chieftain who is gone.

Out beyond the south windows faintly visible thru the night, toward the pointing finger of Washington Monument telling the greatness of another president. It also was dark like the capitol without the long beams of light that pick it out a thing of grace and beauty in happier times. It was dark and almost grim in its majestic bulk as if in sadness for the dead.

Still beyond in the darkness was the square white mass of the Lincoln Memorial, lonely beside the slow waters of the Potomac. A short year ago, President Harding with eloquent tongue dedicated this gift to the nation to the memory of a great president. Now he awaits honor almost as impressive, altho not written in "piled stone."

Coolidge Calls

President Coolidge and the cabinet officers, the high judges and the members of congress who came with him, followed the casket into the east room to stand for a brief moment only beside it, then turn away and be carried swiftly away. It was close to midnight when Mr. Coolidge reached his hotel.

Mrs. Harding did not see the funeral cortege arrive. She went at once to her room when she reached the white house, long before the procession had turned into Pennsylvania avenue a mile away. Her hand rested on the arm of her brother-in-law, Dr. George Harding, as she stepped again within the old doorway.

After the last of the official party had turned back from the east room the guard of honor took up vigil for the night, motionless, silent, with heads bent to watch with a sleeping comrade.

Silence and the heavy scent of the flowers surrounded Warren Harding again as he lay, free forever from the care of state, to await the morrow and the proud honors his country will then heap upon him.

For One Night Only

Warren Harding was back again in the white house for his last night in the home that had been his for more than two years in victory, defeat, sorrow and gladness. Alone again with the loving and constant wife, the helpmate and companion, the driving force that always spurred him onward and upward, home again with Laddie Boy, the Air-dale pup upon whom he bestowed his affection as a symbol of his kindness for all God's creatures.

Out over the broad streets and avenues of the city, his thousands of fellow countrymen were going to their less pretentious homes in respectful silence leaving him alone for his last night in the white house. All that was mortal of Warren Harding was home again for the last time but his soul was out on the dark to that flows around all the world.

MOST OF STOLEN CLOTHING FOUND

Most of the clothing which was stolen Monday night from the residence of Walter Correa on Ashland avenue, was found yesterday by police in a nearby field. Whoever took the articles from the house sorted them in the field and appropriated what they needed. Two pairs of trousers and a coat were missing.

Other articles found in the field consisted of four shirts, two pair of trousers and two coats. A ring which Mr. Correa at first thought had been taken, was found in a trousers pocket in the field. No trace as to the identity of the thieves has been discovered.

IS HIT BY CAR

Little Mary Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Taylor on North Main street, was slightly injured yesterday afternoon when she was struck by an auto driven by a man from Meredosia. It is understood that the child ran across the street, failing to notice the approaching car. The accident was unavoidable.

The little girl was knocked down, but was only slightly scratched and bruised. However, she was greatly frightened and had to be carried into her home.

FIRST ENTRIES FOR COUNTY FAIR LISTED

Dr. A. B. Applebee Gets First Exhibitor's Ticket—Big Rush of Entries Expected to Start Today—Springfield Firm Gets Tent Contract.

Dr. Alpha B. Applebee was issued exhibitors ticket number one as the entries desks were opened at the Morgan County Fair offices yesterday. The entry of several head of livestock was made in the name of Applebee & DePrates and heads the list of many hundred expected entries in this department.

Entering in all departments is expected to start in full swing today and full preparations have been made to receive the exhibitors at the office. Seven desks are so arranged as to accommodate the exhibitors in respect to their various departments and a clerk is stationed at each table. In this manner the posting of entries is completed as fast as they are made and everything kept in perfect order. The new system that has been installed is the model of efficiency in every detail, accommodating the exhibitors in the least possible space of time.

The firm of R. H. Armbruster & Company, of Springfield was awarded the contract yesterday morning for the renting of tents to be used at the Morgan county fair. Peoria and Springfield firms were bidding for the privilege of furnishing the tents, a contract which is considered one of the largest of its kind to be awarded in this section during the season.

Twenty-one tents are in the first order given by the fair board and more large orders are expected to follow as need for the tents arises. Following is a list of tents thus far rented:

One big show tent, 100 by 150 feet, three tents, each 70 by 110 feet; one tent 60 by 120 feet; two tents, each 60 by 90 feet; six tents, each 40 by 60 feet; one tent 20 by 40 feet; one tent 16 by 20 feet; five tents, each ten feet square, to be used for concessions; one compartment tent, 12 by 19 feet, and one tent 20 by 30 feet. It is expected that a much larger number of tents for concessions will be needed, and also some others to house exhibits.

DOKAYS SHOW SNAP IN FINAL PRACTICE

Ildrim Temple Drill Team Gives Exhibition Performance Last Night—To Pack Uniforms Today and Leave Early Tomorrow Morning.

The Ildrim Temple drill team held their last practice at Castle Hall last night before their departure for Portland. The sixteen members of the team worked as one man, as they went thru the intricate mazes of the drill, the word of command and no signal but that of the captain's whistle guided them during the entire performance.

Owing to the intense heat, the men did not wear their uniforms in the final practice. These are to be packed today and to have them wet with sweat would probably ruin them. Each man has marked his uniform, putting his name on each separate article.

The drill is supposed to be given in six minutes, and last night the team went thru the movement in only one minute over the record time. The various exercises dovetailed one another so nicely that it was difficult to tell where one ended and another began, except for the whistle signal which marked the close of each movement. Many military formations are used and yet the drill also contains a number of movements which the ordinary soldier would find difficult. The closing feature of the drill is the formation of a human pyramid, with the topmost man holding aloft an American flag.

The team and the remainder of the Ildrim Temple delegation will leave at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning via the Hammer for Chicago, where they will spend the day Thursday. The special train, in which they will make the trip to Portland, will arrive at Minneapolis about noon Friday. At this point the team will have a three hour stopover, and it is planned to go thru the drill once more at that time.

A number of friends of the team members and fellow Dokays watched the drill last night and the boys earned hearty applause. The months of training which the team has undergone shows to splendid advantage and ought to bring down the prize when the team appears before the judges at the Imperial Palace.

TEMPLARS PLAN FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

At a meeting of Hospitalier Commandery Knights Templar held Tuesday night it was decided to hold memorial services next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the temple, in memory of the late President Warren G. COP MAKES TRAMPS REMEMBER ROODHOUSE

Two Weary Willies sat in a window of the Alton station at Roodhouse recently and talked over their future plans. Outside the window stood Ed McGinnis, special C. & A. officer, who, along with many other duties, watches over the destinies of the genus trampus when specimens of that order chance to stray into his territory. The hoboes didn't know Ed was there, that is, not until they had completed their plans.

The two paddies were regretting the fact that there were no freight cars filled with watermelons standing conveniently in the Roodhouse yards. One of them recently had the rare privilege of sampling a car in another locality and the memory lingered. They also regretted that they had missed No. 19 out of Roodhouse and talked of chances of catching some other train for Chicago.

By that time the arm of the law had learned enough to give it a longing desire to get the two vagabonds in its grasp. The officer went to the window, asked the occupants of the sill a few questions and then informed them that he was coming their way. The tramps left their seats without a second invitation. One was lucky enough to get away, the other not quite so fortunate.

The officer reached the spot where the tramps had jumped in time to catch one of them as he passed. The tramp dodged as he thought the policeman was about to hit him. Instead of using his arm, however, McGinnis used his foot, and delivered a kick which sent Tim on his way in anything but a rejoicing frame of mind. The two bums hopped a stock freight and left town as soon as possible.

"I always try to give the hoboes something by which they can remember Roodhouse," McGinnis said in concluding the story.

PLAN HOMECOMING AT MORGAN COUNTY FAIR

Directors Set Wednesday, Aug. 29, as Date of Festivities—Every Person Whoever Lived in County to Be Invited to Come or Send Proxy

Wednesday, Aug. 29, will be homecoming day at the county fair. This matter was definitely decided yesterday at a meeting of the directors, and plans were set on foot for special program features and the reception of numbers of former residents.

Anyone who knows of a former resident whom they think would be interested in this event, is urged to call the Chamber of Commerce and give in the name and address of their friend. It is the plan to get the names and addresses of as many former residents of the city and county as possible. Each of these will receive a special letter of invitation, signed by the president and secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the president of the fair association, and the mayor of the city. The letter will extend a special invitation to attend the homecoming, and the recipient will be urged, in case he cannot attend, to send a proxy. These will be in the nature of gifts and will be auctioned off in front of the grandstand as a special feature of the homecoming program.

This plan has been successfully tried in other places, and the auctioning of the gifts has resulted in much merriment. The gifts are often bundles of practical jokes and the buyer comes in for some good natured rallery.

The homecoming promises to be the big event of the fair, the numerous other activities promise to be much better than ever before. The Chamber of Commerce and fair headquarters are prepared to take care of the rush of entries, which is expected to start today. Six tables have been arranged in the form of a hollow square, in which the force employed especially to list entries will work.

GROUP FROM GRACE TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Young People Will Attend Religious School at Northwestern August 20 to 31.

Several young people of Grace Sunday school are planning to attend the Northwestern Summer school of Religious Education which will be held on the campus of Northwestern University in Evanston from August 20 to 31. Those who attend will study following subjects: J. L. Read scoutmaster Troup 7, B. S. A., Scout work; Misses Elva Osborne, Edna Osborne, Margaret Faye Hopper and Vera Stultz, all registered for preparation to teach in the beginners department.

T. V. Hopper superintendent of Grace Sunday school, has attended the summer school for two years and believes firmly in its ability to educate Sunday school workers. He said that he felt that a school could well afford to pay the expenses of as many workers as would go.

The young people are not looking forward to a life of constant study during their time away. They will have Lake Michigan right at their doorstep and will have all the advantages that the city of Chicago can offer. The dormitories of Northwestern U. have heretofore been famed for barracks by the Sunday school workers. These will not be available this year but adequate provisions have been made for housing, however.

BLUFFS MAN INJURED BY FALL FROM WAGON

Neely West of Bluffs is now a patient at Passavant hospital the victim of a very painful and rather peculiar accident which happened Monday afternoon. He had been to Jacksonville with a load of melons and having disposed of them was on his way to Meredosia for another load. When he was near the Groves farm an auto kept crowding him into the ditch according to his statement, and when the team reared the ditch they stumbled and both fell, throwing Mr. West into the ditch. He was rolled further over near the team and one of the team kicked him three times in the side.

Mr. West was travelling by himself and perhaps lay unconscious for quite a while, as he was found in that condition by James Zahn who assisted him to the hospital. It was found that there were no bones broken but it is impossible to tell yet just how badly he is injured otherwise.

TAKES POSITION HERE

V. L. Barrow, a native of Bolton, Lancashire, England, who has been in America only about three weeks has accepted a position with the Robert Cassell cigar store on the west side of the square and will enter upon his new duties at once. Mr. Barrow has some very interesting stories to tell of the economic conditions in Old England at the present time.

VISITING OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. William Preston of Mattoon are in the city for an extended visit with former friends. Mr. Preston will be remembered as a former citizen who owned a laundry here for a number of years and removed from here to Pueblo, Colorado. For the past few years he has been laundry foreman at the Odd Fellows Home at Mattoon.

EARLY RESIDENT HERE DIES IN WEST

Norman S. Hitchcock Passes Away Following Paralytic Stroke—Deceased Was Graduate of Illinois College.

Information has been received here of the recent death in Riverside, Calif., of Norman S. Hitchcock, who lived here many years ago and is well remembered by a number of the older residents of the county.

Mr. Hitchcock was a graduate of Illinois college in the class of 1862. His marriage to Miss Annie Fisher of this city was solemnized April 10, 1866, and their home was in Jacksonville for a number of years.

The following facts concerning Mr. Hitchcock's life were sent by a friend from Riverside for publication:

The deceased was born in Bangor, Me., Jan. 13, 1837, and was thus past eighty-six years of age at the time of his death. Subsequent to the Civil War in which he served for a time, as lieutenant, Mr. Hitchcock and his wife were resident in Jacksonville.

In the early '80s the family removed to California and in 1885 located in Riverside. The deceased followed the occupation of carpenter and builder until 1904, when he took up a homestead in the great Imperial Valley of California. After the death of his wife on September 9, 1892, he lived with his only sister, Addie E. Morrison, until the time of his death.

The deceased was a staunch

Christian and ever was strong in his stand on every moral question. Upright and honest in business matters, he had the respect and love of all who knew him.

Mr. Hitchcock suffered a slight paralytic stroke early in March of the present year, from which he seemed to have completely recovered. In the latter part of March he went by auto with his son, C. F. Hitchcock of Richmond, Calif., to visit the Imperial Valley, returning by auto stage on April 5. Three weeks later he lost his speech and soon afterward the use of his right arm and limb. He was unable to speak for fourteen weeks prior to his death but did not seem to suffer. All that was possible was done to relieve him and the end came peacefully as indicated above.

The care of
Imitation Pearls

After being worn a pearl necklace should be gently run through a soft chamois of soft cloth to remove moisture and dust, then it is well that the string should be put in its case where it will be dust and moisture proof.

How Do I Clean My Pearls?

This is a question frequently asked. Pearls seldom require "cleaning" if properly cared for but, once they are dirty the following is the best method:

Rub each pearl individually with a soft piece of cloth that has been moistened in a fine soap solution, using a pure soap, then dry with a soft cloth.

Pearls are often mistreated; perfume often is sprayed directly upon them and that is injurious as it discolors. Perspiration often is the cause of pearls discoloring and peeling and it is better often not to wear them in extremely hot weather, but wear summer novelties in their stead.

Kiddies' Evening Story

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Hay Ride

"I have a plan," said Bennie Brownie, "and it is a wonderful plan."

"What is it?" asked the other Brownies.

"Let us go for a hay ride," said Bennie Brownie. "That would be such fun," the others said. "When will we go?"

"Well," said Bennie, "I see that the farmer is planning to bring the hay from yonder field to the loft in the barn beyond."

"Perhaps if we hurry we can have a ride now. It is some little distance, but we can get there if we hurry."

So the Brownies all hurried along and just before they reached the hay wagon Bennie Brownie emptied a great enormous suitcase which he had, and handed every little Brownie a hay coat.

Now the hay coats were just the color of the hay, and the Brownies put them on and pulled the hoods, which were attached to the coats, over their heads.

In this way they could not be seen. If any one came near them they put their arms up over their faces and their arms were covered, of course, by the special suits.

Well they did have such a jolly ride, and when it was all over Bennie Brownie said: "Let's have a hay party tonight in the loft."

And the other Brownies thought it would be a splendid idea. For they had enjoyed their ride so much that they did want to jump up and down in the hay and play in it and throw it at each other and have some wonderful games.

"Let's invite the others to come," said Bennie Brownie.

"Oh, yes," the other Brownies shouted.

So Bennie Brownie and the other Brownies went around and asked the Fairy Queen and Princess Fairy Joy and Princess Fairy Twilight-Bell and Fairy Xbab and all of the other Fairies to come to the hay party.

Every one of the Fairies accepted.

Then the Brownies asked Peter Gnome and all of the other Gnomes and every Gnome accepted.

Next the Brownies invited the members of the Oaf family and they all accepted.

They invited the members of the Bogy family and they all came, too, for they were such jolly little creatures and not at all the horrible creatures which some gossips had made them out to be.

They wouldn't frighten children for anything. There wasn't a single naughty Bogy.

And yet they had heard people say that the Bogy man would catch a bad child.

They thought it was very mean to say such things about their family, and the Breeze Brothers had taken around many messages, whispering to people and asking them not to say such unkind things of a nice, jolly family.

Then the Brownies invited Effie Elf and all the other Elves to come to the hay party, and all of the Elves accepted.

They invited Old Mr. Giant to come and Old Mr. Giant said he would have to sit down most of the time, for he was sure if he stood up he'd hit his head against a beam, but that he would be delighted to come, and that he would be careful.

They invited Witty Witch, and she accepted with delight.

So they had their party, and such a jolly party as it was!

They played hide-and-go-seek in the old barn and they made piles of hay into which they jumped.

They covered themselves up with hay for the joy of throwing it off again.

And Mr. Moon shone through a little old window which gave them all the light they had.

It was pretty dark even with Mr. Moon doing the best he could, but as they said, they were lucky to have that little window through which Mr. Moon could shine.

And it was fun having it so dark. They could just really manage to see each other very dimly.

"There's nothing like a hay party," said the Fairy Queen as they were leaving after the party was all over.

"It was a splendid party," they all shouted.

And Bennie Brownie was a very happy little Brownie to think that his party had been so jolly and such a huge success!

IRREGULARITY IN BUSINESS IS NOTED

As Compared With Same Period of Last Year Discrepant Improvement Is Seen.

St. Louis—(By The Associated Press)—Considerable irregularity was noted in general business conditions in the Eighth Federal Reserve District in the last month, but as contrasted with the corresponding period a year ago, business is virtually at all times was distinctly better, according to the monthly business report of the St. Louis Federal Reserve Bank, issued today.

The sharp decline in wheat value had a tendency to dispel grain for a more favorable market, the report states.

While production has made further progress in catching up with consumption, manufacturers, save in rare instances, are not making up stocks for which they have not received orders, and their purchasing of raw materials is along extremely conservative lines, the report adds.

Hot Weather Aids

"Retail distribution was greatly stimulated by the arrival of hot weather," the report continues. "Summer apparel of all sorts has moved in heavy volume, and purchasing of vacation supplies, seasonal sporting goods, and merchandise for household consumption was considerably larger than during the corresponding period last year. Another factor in accelerating retail trade has been the large number of price reductions."

"More seasonable weather was beneficial to growing crops, and, as a whole, prospects underwent improvement during the past six weeks. Related cultivation was made possible by driving out of fields. Optimism which the outlook for enlarged yields might have engendered, however, was dispelled in a large measure by the sharp decline in wheat values

The movement of this product was considerably under the corresponding period last year, and where possible farmers are holding their grain for a more favorable market.

Wheat is Lowest

"The present level of wheat prices is the lowest since the outbreak of the war in 1914. Corn, on the other hand, advanced to a new high record for the year, No. 2 Cash corn selling in the St. Louis market at 89 cents per bushel on July 14, against 86 cents on June 15, and 64 1/2 cents on July 15, 1922. Hog prices are still depressed, though showing some recovery from the recent low. Cotton was slower during the period under review, middling declining from 92 cents to 27 1/2 cents per pound in the St. Louis market. The demand for spot cotton was described as dull, and centering in grades, which have been to a large extent exhausted."

"The recent hot spell had a tendency to emphasize dullness in the coal market. Continued declines in prices have caused steam users to hold off filling their requirements in the hope of obtaining further concessions later on. A further reduction in production in the Illinois and Arkansas fields took place, and Kentucky producers complain of a dull market for their output.

Collections Good

"Reports relative to collections indicate a very 'spotted' situation. Efficiency in the wheat belt is notably under, that of other large sections of the district, wholesalers in the large centers report that they are getting their money promptly, especially from the South. In the tobacco areas further payments to growers by the cooperative associations have resulted in satisfactory liquidation of debts."

Labor continues fully employed, the report says.

"Temporary closing down of mines and smelters in the lead and zinc fields released a large number of workers, but many of these were absorbed by farms, where wheat harvesting and threshing has been in progress," the report amplifies.

A feature of the employment situation is the urgent call for common labor, particularly on farm and road building work. From many sections of the South come complaints of a scarcity of farm help, which is ascribed in large measure to the exodus of negro laborers to Northern industrial centers."

HISTORY MADE IN FACTORY

French Revolution Said to Have Had Its Inception in Institution of the Revellions.

Included among the first wall paper makers in America was Joseph Bumstead, of Boston. He traveled in France in 1824, and also ten years later. He left an interesting diary of the industry. Bumstead visited the Zuber works in Alsace and in his diary wrote that Zuber had succeeded in 1822 in making the first paper in continuous rolls at his paper factory in Roppeville, and had sold the English rights for $5,000. In 1830 Zuber took back from Manchester, England, the first wall paper printing machine used in France. A few years later nearly all wall papers were machine printed in designs that were mostly bad.

History records that it was at a wall paper factory, the famous Royal Manufactory of Revellion, that the French revolution broke out on April 18, 1789. Revellion employed more than 300 workmen. A rumor had been circulated that the workmen were to be taxed 16 sous a day, and that "bread was too good for them." A mob assembled and proceeded to pillage the factory. The furniture and fixtures were thrown into the street. The troops were called out. Revellion fled to London where he passed the remainder of his life.

CASTE PREJUDICE IN INDIA

Not a Bar to Any Occupation, Though the Observance is Most Rigidly Enforced.

There are four main castes in India—the Brahmins, Kshatriyas, Valayas and Sudras, corresponding traditionally to the occupations of priest, warrior, trader and artisan. But, though this would suggest that caste was at one time a class distinction, yet at the present day a caste may include all classes save that of priest, which is reserved to the Brahmins. Caste is no bar to any occupation. A rajah may be a Sudra. His cook may be a Brahmin. The rajah is of a higher class than his cook, though of a very much lower caste. And though the Brahmin will cook the rajah's dinner, he will not eat it with him, or permit his daughter to marry the rajah.

Though it is not looked upon with approval, marriage is possible between castes which are not widely separated. In particular, a legal marriage can take place between two contiguous castes. But in all such mixed marriages the children belong entirely to the lower caste.

Music of American Indians.
The music of the American Indians is solely and simply vocal. It seems to be generally agreed by musical authorities that the Indians' songs have in them nothing borrowed from instruments, nothing of artificial intonation. An Indian melody never serves two sets of words. There is no instance, it appears, where the people have sung the different stanzas of a ballad to the same air. A large proportion of Indian songs are entirely without words at all, syllables being employed to carry the tones. Perhaps the most striking peculiarity of Indian music is the lack of definite pitch. The Indian begins his song where the natural quality of his voice and his mood at the same time render it easiest for him to sing it. The pitch of the song depends upon the individual. —Washington Star.

No Doubt About It.
Mr. Newlywed was on his honeymoon, and as he had married a very pretty young wife, he lost no chance of telling everybody with whom he came in contact that he was a married man.
"I want rooms," he announced, as he approached the hotel reception clerk, trying to appear as nonchalant as possible.
"Certainly, sir," said the clerk.
"For how many?"
"For myself and my wife," replied Newlywed.
"Yes," said the clerk. "Suite, sir."
"Sweet!" cried Mr. Newlywed.
"Of course she is!"

Dear One of the Family.
At Matamoras on the each branch of the Penobscot, where a supply depot is maintained, there is a tame deer which enters the house occasionally and eats food from the table. The deer prefers to sleep in the open at the edge of the woods, but during the day plays around the doorway of the farm, following a dog, of whom it appears to be fond, wherever the animal goes. Several times when the deer has been in the house and has wanted to go out it has leaped through a window, taking out sash and glass with it.—Portland (Me.) Press.

Perfection Imperative.
Hamlet Pitt, starting in "Julius Caesar," had been out 40 weeks, and of course every member of the cast was letter perfect. In fact, they could have recited their parts backward. Getting into New York state, however, he called an extra rehearsal. The trouper wondered why, whereupon he explained that he wanted to make a good showing in the next town played. Being pressed for further details, he added: "Our next stand is Rome, and you know that Rome was Julius Caesar's home town."

Go Farther and Fare Better.
Boss-Jones, how is it you are late morning? Where do you live?
Clerk—At Roxville, about six miles out, sir.
Boss—Hm! I see! Well, move farther out and come in on the express train.

Didn't Wait.
"There was a fire at our school last week."
"Get out!"
"I did."

Remember Murrayville
Catholic picnic today. Chicken dinner 50c and burgo; plenty of amusement.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Black Hull Gloom—Professor J. C. Hackleman uses this term to describe the suspicion in the minds of some farmers that their black hull wheat is not the true black hull. This suspicion is caused by the absence of this characteristic on much of the wheat sown as black hull. However, this characteristic is not always present and when it is not it is almost impossible to tell the difference in black hull and common turkey.

Show Some Good Wheat—The Central States Fair at Aurora is offering attractive prizes for half bushel exhibits of Illinois wheat. The first prize is $20.00. We hope some of our Morgan County farmers will enter this contest.

Limestone Orders—Johnson Bros., of Sinclair, J. E. Osborne of Jacksonville and Clyde Williams of Chapin have recently ordered cars of agricultural limestone for the purpose of growing alfalfa.

Poultry Culling—The season for demonstration work of this sort is here. The first demonstration of the season will be given at Harold Swains south of Sinclair this morning.

Pigs in Feeding Contest—Several of the boys enrolled in the pig feeding contest report their pigs coming along nicely. A few say their pig weighs around 150 lbs., at the present time.

Interesting Soil Tests—The County Farm Adviser recently made a number of soil tests in a field where the Johnson Brothers of Sinclair are preparing to seed ten acres to alfalfa. The Comber test showed the presence of lime where a stack bottom had rotted as well as along the fence where the ground had not been cropped. Elsewhere the land showed the need of limestone.

WANT FARMER-LABOR PARTY IN ILLINOIS

SPRINGFIELD — (By the A. P.)—A coalition of farmer and labor in America will create a party stronger than the British Labor party and one far more rapid in growth, Duncan McDonald, former president of the Illinois Federation of Labor and state chairman of the Farmer Labor committee, said at a mass meeting here recently.

The meeting was called to form an Illinois nucleus of the Federated Farmer Labor party which was organized at Chicago early this month when a group of delegates from the old Farm Labor party combined with other groups representing labor and some communists. McDonald formerly was head of the Illinois Mine workers and campaigned in North Dakota in the Frazier campaign for governor.

"The success of the Farmer-Labor coalition in Minnesota has given a new impetus to the farm-union movement in every part of the United States," he said. "The success of the progressive group in Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma is but a forerunner of what will take place in other states."

"The dominant political parties have done nothing to allay the unrest of labor and farmer. The farm loans have been merely schemes to enslave the farmer by making him a victim of the banking groups. In the industrial field the agencies of government under both Palmer and Daugherty have organized strike breaking agencies and instead of trying to bring about a satisfactory solution of labor's difficulties they have acted as paid agents of the railway combinations and coal companies."

FINE CHANCE FOR THE RIGHT SORT OF JUDGE

Rock Island (by The Associated Press)—A conscienceless in Rock Island county could make $100,000 a year, declared
County Judge George D. Long recently, who maintains that there is a powerful whiskey ring operating in this district composed of influential and reputable citizens.

"Every day as county judge
I have to run the gauntlet when
I pass sentence on a bootlegger.
Usually four or five of his influential friends come to me and ask me to be lenient. Many times these friends are business men, men you would expect to stand in support of law and for the proper punishment of those who break it."

"Every bootlegger is willing to pay a fine. There seems to be a limitless supply of money for fines. Where all this money comes from I do not know, but it is surprising how some of the impoverished booze makers, who cunningly walk about starvation of their wives and babies can raise the money."

Market Report

By The Associated
PressQUIET STRENGTH SHOWN IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Quiet strength again characterized the stock market today.
Short interests continued to furnish most of the buying power, but commission houses reported a substantial increase in odd lot orders from small investors, who favored the seasoned dividend paying issues.

Steels, motors, motor accessories, coppers and most of the rails and standard shares moved to higher ground despite the sporadic selling of some of the cheap ells, leathers and a few speculative issues.

Several favorable earnings reports made their appearance during the day and had a beneficial effect on sentiment. These included the semi-annual statements of the Otis Steel company which showed net operating profits of $1,068,560 as against a deficit of $29,861 in the first six months of last year; the Maxwell trading corporation which showed net profit of $3,072,532 for six months ended June 30, as compared with net profits of $2,018,266 during the entire year 1922, and Mack Truck, Inc., which earned
$4,044,478 net as against $3-
570,632 in the first half of 1922.

American Locomotive touched a new top, but reacted later up 1.
Strength of the Northwestern rails, which had been heavily sold in recent weeks was the feature of trading in carrier issues. St. Paul common and preferred Great Northern all gained 1 1/2 to 2 points.

German marks being quoted at 23 cents a million an overnight depreciation of more than 50 per cent.

The four Liberty issues of the United States government advanced fractionally while the tax exempt 3 1/2s were unchanged and the treasury 4 1/2s eased 3-3/4 of a point.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Cash wheat closed 3/4 better. Demand was good with all interests buying.

els of wheat worked for Europe.

100,000 bushels to Buffalo.

Cash corn was in excellent demand with premiums 1c better.
Prices finished 1/4 to 1/2 higher;
shipping sales here were 170,000 bushels. Vessel room was chartered for 100,000 bushels to Buffalo.

Oats premiums were 1/4 to 1/2
easier, especially for light weights.
More new oats are coming to the market. Domestic shipping sales here were 275,000 bushels.
